

Hate Crime Policy

1.0 Introduction

1.1 Hate crime is any offence committed against a person or property, which is motivated by the offender's hatred of people because they are seen to have different characteristics. Hate Crime is a criminal offence and will not be tolerated by Coastline.

1.2 There are nine Protected Characteristics under the Equality Act 2010:

Age
Sex
Race
Sexual orientation
Marriage/ civil partnerships
Disability
Gender reassignment
Religion
Pregnancy/maternity

1.3 Examples of such offences could include, but is not limited to, incidents of:

- Verbal abuse
- Harassment or threats
- Physical assault of any kind
- Damage to home or property
- Bullying
- Graffiti and vandalism

1.4 The Cornwall Wide Equality Objectives were developed by the Voluntary and Community Sector working with key public sector organisations in March 2016. Coastline were one, of over eighty, organisations who attended and contributed to these objectives.

1.5 Coastline signed up to the "We Say No To Hate" campaign which gives increased confidence in reporting hate incidents to third party reporting centres and the Police. This enables victims to access support to deal with incidents.

1.6 Coastline contributes to The Multi-Agency Hate Crime Protocol which ensures a consistent approach across Cornwall. This has helped to form Devon and Cornwall Police Equality Objectives 201620-20240 - Hate Crime

Equality Objectives for 2020 – 2024 are grouped under four broad strategic themes which relate to the key areas in which the police are seeking to deliver improvements in policy and service quality and outcomes for the public, communities and workforce.

2.0 Themes

2.1 The four themes are:

- Hate crime
- Violence against women and children
- Access and engagement
- Leadership and positive action

3.0 The Equality Act 2010

3.1 This replaced all previous legislation that dealt with anti- discrimination. Coastline will ensure that we deliver a service which will eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct that is prohibited under this Act;’ (Section 149 of the Equality Act 2010 Public sector equality duty).

4.0 Reporting

4.1 Many people, for various reasons, are reluctant to report crime directly to the Police and because of this Coastline will act as a third party reporting agency to make it easier and more accessible for local residents to report Hate Crime.

4.2 The reporting tool “True Vision” is a Police website which gives information about Hate Crime or incidents. It enables users who do not wish to report incidents in person to report incidents online at: www.report-it.org.uk

4.3 The police take hate crime very seriously and will record and investigate this offence even if the user does not want to give their details. However, it must be noted that the investigation and ability to prosecute the offender(s) is severely limited if the police cannot contact the complainant.

4.4 The user may also specify how they prefer to be contacted and whether this would cause them any difficulties. The police will not pass on details without consent and would ask the user to consider giving their details confidentially. The user can use this site to report online directly to their local police and can also report online Hate material.

4.5 Hate Crime incidents can also be reported on the following government website:

<https://www.gov.guk/report-hate-crime>

This site also enables the user to access information relating to victim support and their rights specifically in connection with Hate Crime.

5.0 Terrorism and extremism

5.1 The internet is used by some people to promote terrorism and extremism. You can challenge and report terrorist and extremist content you find online, which you feel is offensive, or illegal. For more information about what makes online content illegal and how to report it, please visit :

7.0 Tenancy agreements

7.1 Our tenancy agreements contain clauses relating to anti-social behaviour, which includes Hate Crime. By signing the tenancy agreement or lease our tenants agree not to commit acts of anti-social behaviour and to be responsible for the behaviour of their household and visitors.

Not all tenancy agreements are exactly the same, but the principle that the lives of other residents should not be adversely affected by another's behaviour is a constant throughout.

8.0 Prevention

8.1 To prevent anti-social behaviour from occurring Coastline employs a variety of actions and initiatives. These include but are not limited to:

- The use of Probationary Tenancies
- Working with the CAB to deliver a pre-tenancy course to assist vulnerable customers and those who have not had a tenancy before. This ensures that new customers have every opportunity to develop life skills and are given the tools to enable them to sustain their tenancy
- A robust pre-tenancy interview, which includes a full risk assessment, to ascertain the suitability of the applicant and that appropriate support is in place before the tenancy commences
- Actively participating in community initiatives aimed at addressing issues relating to the causes and effects of anti-social behaviour. This involves working with local schools, the police, community agencies and other external agencies
- Actively involving communities in the management of their neighbourhood, encouraging the formation of resident groups and promoting minimal tolerance of anti-social behaviour
- Developing Local Lettings Strategies which can respond to the needs of communities where anti-social behaviour has been problematic
- Developing Local Offers and Coastline Offers with our customers
- Encourage reporting of ASB by ensuring that our Policy and Procedures are clear, accessible and pro-active
- Following a clearly defined workflow process on our CRM system, including a relevant action plan agreed with to the person(s) experiencing the anti-social behaviour

- Taking prompt, appropriate and decisive action to deal with ASB before it escalates. In doing so, we adopt a problem solving approach and have regard to the full range of tools and legal powers available
- Support victims and witnesses of anti-social behaviour.
